

Creation

Genesis 1:1-1:25

“In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.”

“Creation” means making something out of nothing.

God created the heavens, the earth, and everything within them with His words.

God said, “Let there be light”, and light shone onto the dark world.

God called the light “Day” and the darkness He called “Night.”

So the evening and the morning were the first day.

On the second day,

“Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.”

Thus God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament. God called the waters which were above the firmament “Sky.”

On the third day,

“Let the waters under the heavens be gathered together into one place, and let the dry land appear.”

God called the dry land “Earth,” and the gathering together of the waters “Seas.”

Then God made grass, herbs, and fruit trees.

On the fourth day,

“Let there be lights in the firmament of

In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.

Genesis 1:1

3

the heavens to divide the day from the night.”

God made the sun and the moon and the stars.

He made the sun give light in the day and the moon and the stars give light in the night.

On the fifth day,

“Let the waters abound with an abundance of living creatures, and let birds fly above the earth across the face of the firmament of the heavens.”

God made great sea creatures and every living thing that moves according to its kind.

God also made every winged bird according to its kind.

On the sixth day,

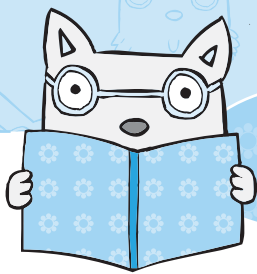

God made the beast of the earth according to its kind.

And He made man and woman in His image.

God saw everything that He had made, and was pleased.

And on the seventh day, God rested.

Today's Study

The Powerful God Who Created the Universe

1. Look at the following illustrations and draw a line connecting the object to its maker.

2. To every man-made thing, there is a maker. Just by seeing them, we're able to recognize the ability and skill of their makers. Can you tell who made the objects below?

3. On the illustration on the side, for who did mom prepare everything?

4. Mom prepares everything for her newborn baby. For whom did God make everything in the world?

Today's Lesson

God Loves Us Always

? Read the following story and answer the questions.

Brian gets up early in the morning and climbs a hill near his house. He gives thanks to God for creating the fresh air, the flowers, and the trees. He eats breakfast when he comes home from the hill. Brian thanks God in his prayer before his breakfast for providing him the meal. On his way to school, he gives thanks to God for the singing sparrows and for his neighbor's dog. On his way back home from school, he thanks God for the shining stars.

? Think about your day, and write down what God has made for me.

God made _____ for me.

I ate delicious _____ today. God provided this food for me.

? David praised God, who created everything in the universe. Read Psalm 8 of the book of Psalms, a poem by David, and try writing a poem that praises God.

Let's Find out

Are the Myths of Greece or Rome True?

You should have seen or heard about Greek or Roman mythology from comic books or movies. Hercules fighting and defeating the giants is very engaging. After encountering these stories in mythology, have you ever wondered whether the stories were true or not?

Roman mythology is not history. Every country has its own myths. We even have one in Korea, a story about Dangoon. Every country has their own myths where angels, demons, fairies, and monsters appear. Why does every country have myths? People have made up such stories to show off how great a nation they are through these myths. Also, people have searched for gods and a spiritual realm from long, long ago.

There's only one God, and God is who He is.

And you shall know no God but Me; for there is no Savior besides Me. (Hosea 13:4)

Parents

Teacher