

Jesus was praying on Mount Gethsemane. He saw Judas Iscariot coming to Him with the Roman soldiers.

Judas sold Jesus to the Jewish leaders for 30 pieces of silver. “Who are you looking for?” Jesus asked the soldiers. “We are here to capture Jesus!” The soldiers grabbed Jesus and took Him to the house of the High Priest.

The High Priest tried to get Jesus to admit what He did wrong.

“Are you the Son of God?”

“Yes. I am the Son of God.”

“How could you say such a thing?”

People hit, slapped, and spit on Jesus.

The High Priest and the Jewish people brought Jesus to Pilate. Pilate knew that Jesus had no sin.

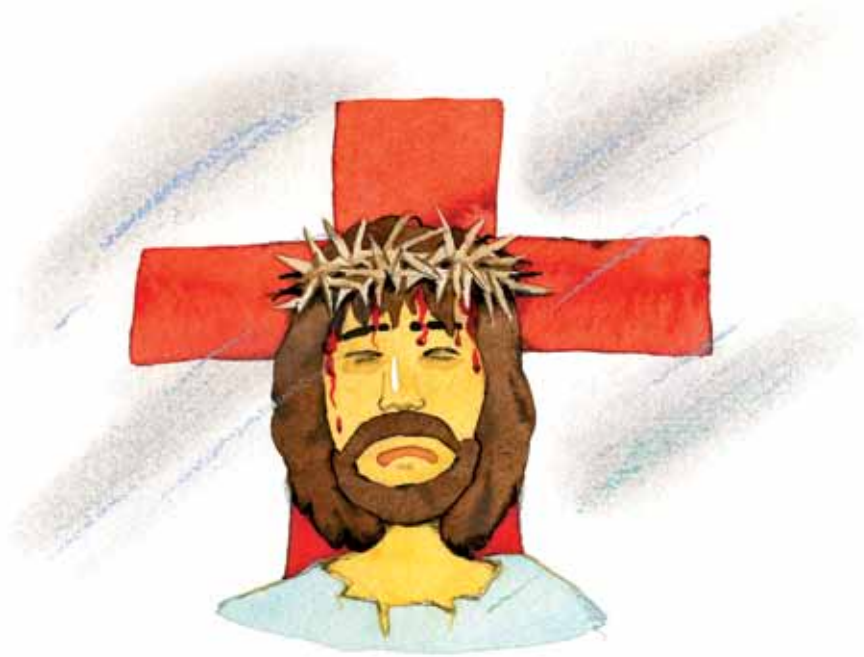

Pilate then asked the Jewish people.

“Do you want me to free Jesus, or the criminal Barabbas?”

Pilate thought the people would ask for Jesus.

But all the people began to shout, “Give us Barabbas and crucify Jesus!”

Pilate had no choice but to let the soldier crucify Jesus.

The soldiers hit Jesus with their whips.

They put a crown of thorns on Jesus' head.

The sharp thorns pierced Jesus' head and blood came out. And as Jesus walked people hit and spat on Jesus.

Jesus had to carry a very heavy cross on his back as he climbed to the top of Mount Golgotha.

On the top of the mountain, Jesus had his hands and feet nailed to the cross. Jesus said, "It is finished," on the cross and died.

Namwoo invited his sunday school buddies Amy, Mark, Lydia, and Mindy to his house. But his house was too dirty. Namwoo decided to clean his house. He put the toys back to the toy box, and the books back on the bookshelf one by one. He brushed away the dust on the floor, and with a rag washed the floor as well. It was very hard for Namwoo.

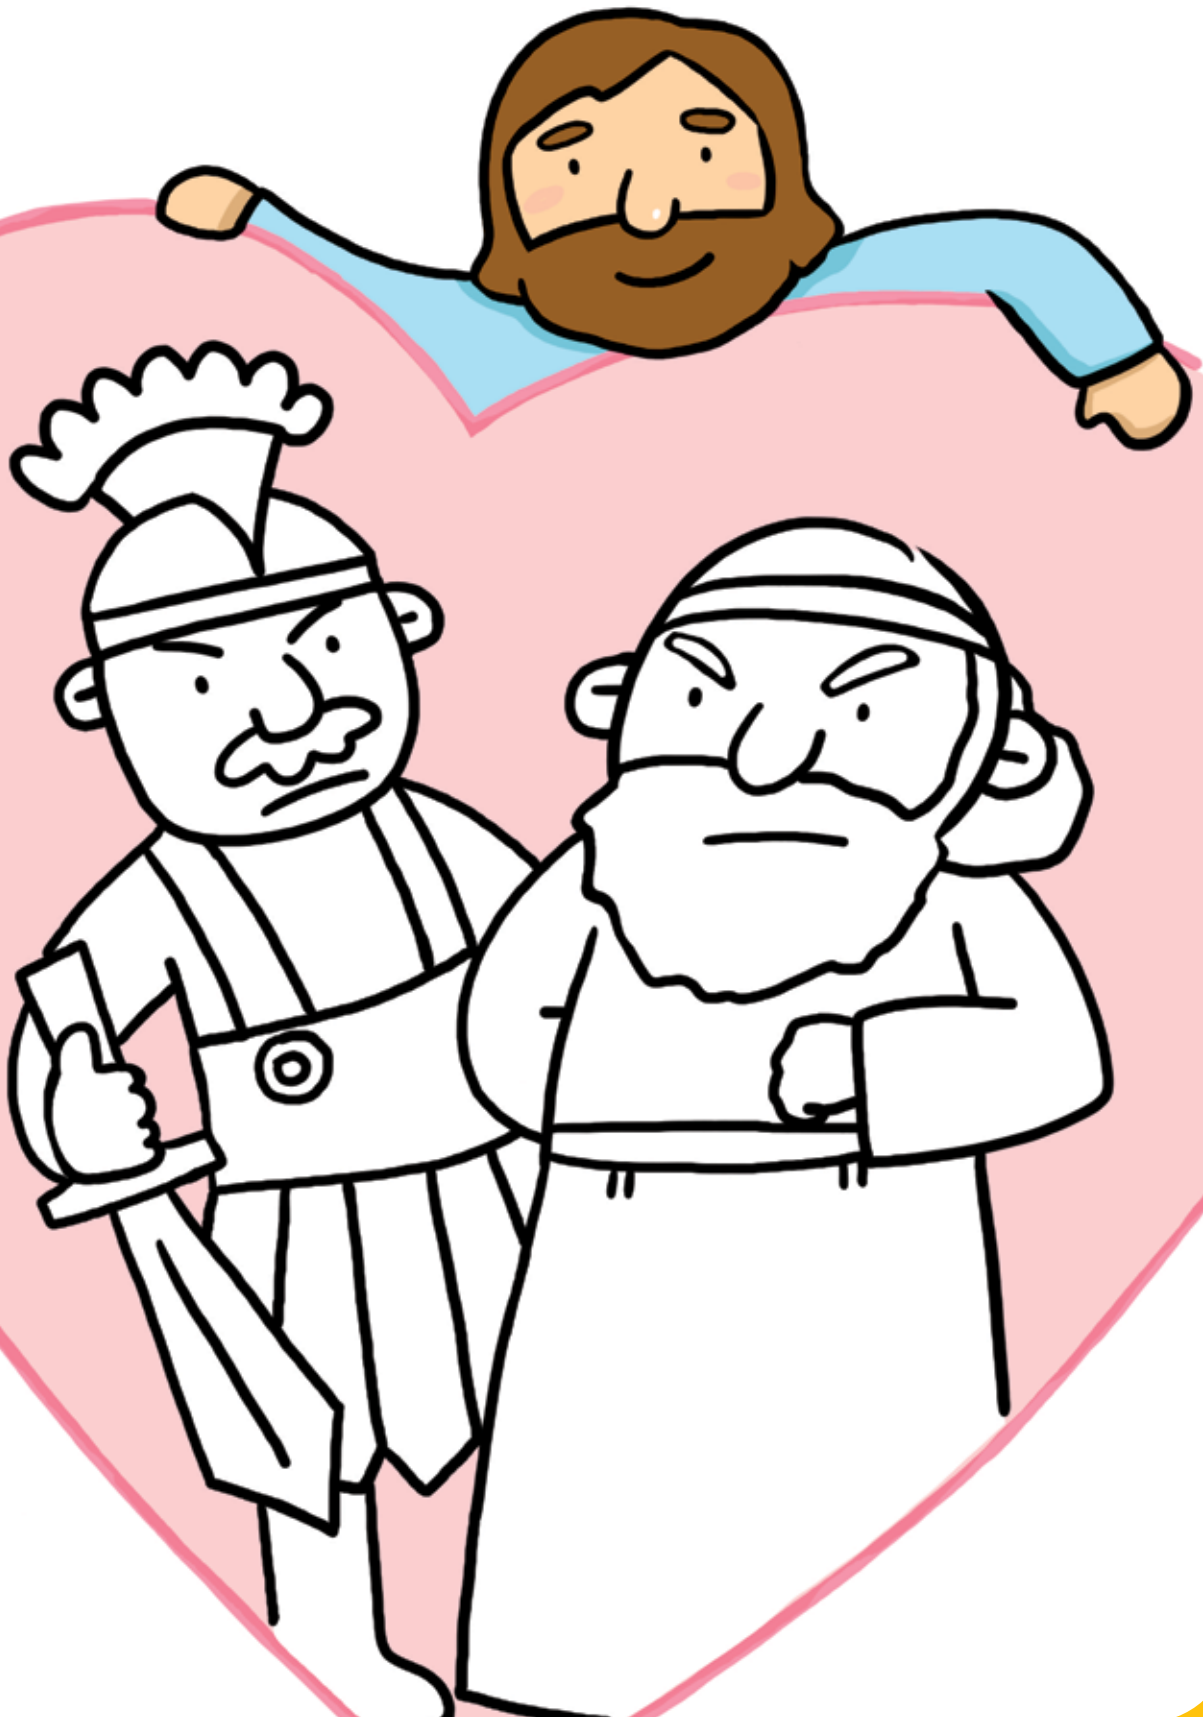

Namwoo was reminded of the Jesus he learned in sunday school.
“Jesus loved me so much he went through so much pain and died for me... And even cleaning is hard for me, how much pain must
He have gone through?”
